- The latest news from the State Department about U.S. foreign relations.
- Pamphlets and videos about U.S. culture and history.
- The latest videos by new U.S. Ambassadors.
- RSS feeds and email updates about resources.

Details

Browsing

- Six broad themes are displayed prominently on the front page: All About America; Democracy, Civil Society & Education; Economic Growth and Development; Environment, Science, Technology & Health; Peace & Security; and Events.
- Scroll down to see the latest from each type of resource, such as articles, videos, or books.
- Browse by geographic locations, topics, people, and organizations using the links underneath the search box.
- Select a language at the top of the page to see content that has been translated into Persian, Arabic, Spanish, French, Portuguese, Russian or Simplified Chinese.

Searching

- Type a search term into the search box at the top of the page and then click the Search button or enter.
- A list of results will appear. The results can be narrowed using the list in the left column menu: content type, topics, geography, organizations, and people.
- The list can also be narrowed using the Choose a Date box in the left column menu.
- Results can be sorted by relevance and by date using the buttons under the search box.

Alerts

- Enter an email address in the Stay Connected box on the front page to receive emails when new content is published.
- A variety of RSS feeds covering content type, themes, region, translated materials, and Twitter feeds.
